I have NOT claimed a Veteran's Exemption nor have I registered to vote in any community in the State of Rhode Island.

I understand that my spouse is the ONLY dependent covered under this exemption.

I fully understand that this exemption applies only as long as I am stationed in Rhode Island under orders. Once I transfer or am discharged I must return the plates to the RI DMV within 30 days of leaving the State.

(Please see the RI DMV website www.dmv.state.ri.us or call (401) 462-5801 for the correct procedure/address for returning the plates. It is in your best interest to request a cancellation receipt (TR3) as this is the only proof this office can accept as proof of plate cancellation).

I am supplying my orders to Newport and a Leave and Earning (LES). If I am applying for this exemption retroactively (I have already left RI) I have also supplied my orders transferring me from the area.

If I am a member of any branch of service other than the United States Navy I understand it is my responsibility to supply a letter from my command annually to this office stating I are still on orders for that current year. This letter must be received in this office prior to April 30th of the current year.

(This letter must be on letterhead with a contact name and telephone number).

Odds and Ends

The RI DMV REQUIRES you to physically cancel your registration by returning the plates to them. Moving to a new state, selling/junking/gifting etc. do not constitute properly cancelling your registration.

Tax bills for motor vehicles are ALWAYS for the previous calendar year ie., the 2010 tax bill is for cars registered in Newport during the 2009 calendar year.

You will be solely responsible for taxes if you do NOT cancel your registration. Accounts the Tax Collector deems uncollectable will be sent to an outside Collection Agency. The Rhode Island DMV retains records for a maximum of 3 years. After that timeframe it is impossible for them to research any records on your behalf. Without written authorization from the RI DMV this office will be unable to adjust your bill and the bill in question along with all accrued penalties will be valid and due the City of Newport.

The purpose of this exemption is to exempt you for motor vehicle taxes because you are not a resident of the State of Rhode Island. It is then the obligation of your new duty station to carry the burden of exempting you once you are transferred from the area.

If you have any questions in regards to the RI DMV policy please contact them directly.

If you have an outstanding bill please contact the Tax Collector's office (401) 845-5401
